Back thre' the lapse of by gone years, The 3-ath by which we came appears

Reflected to our gaze. The welcome beauty of the flowers That cheered as as we came;

The namy wales or pleasant howers, And clear refreshing stream. The thorns and pitfalls that beset An unknown rugged way:

The bidden dangers that we met The many varied ups and downs, With oft a fitful turn ;

The kiminess and the angry frowns, The wrongs and sorrows borne Each stage we see and trace each mile,

Our eyes may brighten with a smile, Or moleten with a tear. The bright streaks glitter in the light. But shadows hang, black as the night,

You tangled wood that spreads after, Conceals a miry stream; We shoulder at the thoughts that mar The beauty of our dre

Hairbreadth escapes at times we had, From death or danger saved; Strange spisodes of good and bad, As we ourselves behaved.

Eich golden mines we passed unseen, nos oft we spurned; We think of what we might have been When dangers gathered on the track,

And drawe us to seepair; When unstrung nerves had falled to act, A helping hand was there. That checkered trail on us impressed,

Secretary, in response to an inquiry as to the situation on the continent, said that the Government had received the most satisfactory assurances from Berlin of the maintainance of peace in Europe.

More revenue frauds have been discovered in Chicago, St. Louis and Milwaukee, and arrests accordingly made. The commercial editor of the St. Louis Democrat first discovered the tricks of the whisky ring, and obtained authority to ferret them out. A Washington special says the discovery of these frauds is the real reason for the displacement of Commissioner Douglass, though he is in no way implicated.

It is announced that the survey for a canal route across the Isthmus of Panama, now being carried on by Captain Lull, is progressing favorably, and that the result thus far is the discovery of a route much more favorable than was expected, in which the summit level, it is said, is far below that of the Panama Railroad, which is only 262 feet. Religion means Manhood.

The better Christian a man really is, the better neighbor he will be, the better citizen, the better acholar, the better man in business, and in every reclaims to glorify God, but which fails to turn out good men. The very work of Christ in the world is to make us men. To make us men, manly men, generous men, pure men, holy men, this is the very office and mission of Christ. The world is full of half men, partial men, incomplete men. You walk over a recont battle field and you find everything in fragments; fragments of guns, of artillery, of borses, of men. Here is a man minus an arm; there one lacking a limb; yonder one who would be a man, but his head is gone; youder another all gone but his head. Now what war in its wild havoe does on the battlefield, that sin does in society everywhere. The world is full of fragments of men. Here is one meant to be a noble man, physique erect and commanding, intellect ripe and large, yet he lacks the ennobling principle of unselfish love, which is the very crown of all excel lence in character, human or divine. Yonder is a be, ing, who, in the great conflict, has been fearfully shattered, all there is left of him is a pitiful greed for money. Youder another, all gone except his appetite. This world is a vast hospital filled with the broken and battered wrecks of torn humanity, and Christ is walking up and down the wards and seeking to make men whole, or what is the same thing, to make them holy. To make men men, like his own peerless manhood, to make men sen, for this he left the throne, for this he stooped to the manger, for this he lived and toiled and journeyed and preached, for this he died-all that we may come in the unity of the faith | Office and Drug Store, Cor, of Fort and Merchant Sts. and the knowledge of the Son of God into a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the folines of Christ .- Rev. Don't Give Up; But Try.

A gentleman, traveling in the northern part of Ireland heard the voice of children, and stopped to listen:

Finding the sound came from a small building used as a school-house, he drew near; as the door was open he went in, and listened to the words the boys

One little fellow stood spart, looking very rad. ". Why does that boy stand there ?" asked the

"Oh, he is good for nothing" replied the teacher. There's nothing in him. I can make nothing of him. He is the most stupid boy in school." The gentleman was surprised at his answer. He saw that the teacher was so stern and rough that the younger and more timid were nearly crushed. After a few words to them, placing his hands on the noble brow of the little fellow who stood apart, he said ; "One of these days you may be a finer scholar don't give up; try, my boy, try." The boy's soul was aroused. His sleeping mini awoke. A new purpose was formed. From that hour he was anxious to excel. And he did become a fine scholar, and the author of a well-known commentary on the Bible; a great and good man, beloved and honored. It was Dr. Adam Clarke.

The secret of his success is worth knowing : " Don't give it up ; but try, my boy, try."

I the unfounded statements frequently made, "that the composition of CHLORODYNE is known to Chem-ists and the Medical profession." The fact is, Chlo-rodyne was discovered and invented by Dr. J. COL-LIS BROWNE (ex Army Medical Staff), and so named by him, and it has bailed all attempts at analysis by the first Chemists of the day. The method and secret of the preparation have never been pub lished. It is obvious, therefore, that anything sold under the name, save Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, is a spurious imitation. CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the invento of Chlorodyne.
REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

REMEDIAL USER AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep' relieves pain, caims the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisits. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellone good effects and wonderful curse, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively, using it in great quantities in the following diseases:—Choicra, Dysentery, Diarrhess, Colics, Coughs, Asthus, Rhesumatlam, Neuralga, Whooping Cong., Cramp Hysteria, &c.
